Introduction

Enterprise 1 Beginner is a complete course for students studying English at beginner level. It provides them with extensive, systematic and well-integrated practice in the productive and receptive skills necessary for successful communication in both oral and written forms of the language.

The course embodies a multi-syllabus approach and a wide variety of presentation methodology. Traditional emphasis on systematic learning of grammar and vocabulary is balanced with practice in communicative language use, the methodical development of linguistic sub-skills, and attention to details of spelling and pronunciation. Graded, structured material which facilitates learning is balanced with more authentic, unsimplified material which encourages language acquisition. Controlled practice leads from the initial learning of language items to genuinely communicative and creative activities.

The course consists of fifteen units in four modules and a variety of supplementary material, including a workbook. In total, Enterprise 1 Beginner may be covered in 70-75 teaching hours.

Each unit ensures coverage of a core of common, useful language related to topics of general interest with which students need to be familiar. The units follow the same basic structure, outlined below:

- Lead-in sections draw on the students' knowledge of the given topic while previewing the new items of vocabulary and grammar to be learnt in the unit. The section ends with a listening activity, requiring students to listen to a recording of the reading text and complete a task, such as checking information, multiple matching and so on. This prepares students for the reading text which follows, by familiarising them with the gist of the passage.
 - Reading sections consist of 50- to 150-word texts on factual topics, reflecting authentic types and styles of writing. These texts allow students to develop sub-skills such as reading for gist or for specific information, and present new vocabulary in a meaningful context.
 - Language Development sections formally present new vocabulary and grammar items, and practise them in a stimulating and balanced variety of tasks. These include listening and speaking activities to ensure the integrated development of skills, and incorporate the teaching of notions such as sequence, purpose and so on.
 - Vocabulary sections practise and extend the vocabulary introduced in the reading text, through various types of exercises. A particular feature of the book is the teaching of collocations, helping students to remember vocabulary items as parts of set expressions.
 - Grammar sections present grammar items clearly and concisely, and reinforce students' understanding of these through grammar exercises. A range of activities then provide controlled practice leading to free use of the grammar items in genuine language tasks.
 - Reading and Listening sections deal with meaningful texts on authentic, cross-cultural topics. These texts exploit the intrinsic interest of the subject matter as well as providing
- relatively unsimplified language to cater for language acquisition. The listening tasks improve students' listening skills while preparing them for the reading tasks, which involve such skills as scanning for information, selecting relevant sections of texts and so on.
- Pronunciation activities help students to recognise sounds and reproduce them correctly. Intonation is regularly modelled and practised in numerous dialogues throughout each unit. All pronunciation exercises are on the cassettes accompanying the coursebook.
 - Communication sections provide varied practice involving meaningful exchanges which resemble real-life communication, and include language functions (i.e. offering, suggesting, etc.), the standard expressions associated with communicative situations (i.e. ordering a meal, travel arrangements, etc.), and sociolinguistic features such as the polite expressions appropriate to "friendly" or formal social contexts.
 - Writing sections provide more extensive practice and consolidation of new language items. Writing tasks are thoroughly prepared beforehand, following guided practice of the language to be used, and based on the model provided by the initial reading text. Additionally, a listening activity ingeniously provides the information and plan to be followed, ensuring systematic, controlled development of writing skills. All writing activities are based on realistic types and styles of writing task, such as letters, descriptions, stories, articles and so on.
 - Module Self-Assessment sections after every fourth unit reinforce the students' understanding of the topics, vocabulary and structures presented in the previous units. The material has been designed to help students learn new language in the context of what they have already mastered, rather than in isolation.
 - Three entertaining adventure stories in a 'comic strip' format, presented in two episodes each, invite students to read for enjoyment and provide invaluable consolidation by means of an alternative approach.
 - Culture Clips
- The coursebook is accompanied by:
- a) an easy-to-use Teacher's Book with full answers to the exercises in the Student's Book, useful suggestions for presenting and conducting the exercises, and four tests (each in two different versions);
 - b) Class audio cassettes or audio CDs containing all listening activities, and Student's audio cassettes or audio CDs;
 - c) Enterprise Beginner Workbook in which students can revise, consolidate and extend their language learning through a variety of engaging tasks.
 - d) Enterprise Beginner Test Booklet containing nine write-in tests, a Mid-term test and an Exit test, which aim to assess students' progress throughout the course.

Around the Clock with Bob Ellis

Bob Ellis, 29, is a dolphin trainer. "I like my job a lot because I love working with animals. It is tiring though, as I work long hours," he says.

Bob is an early bird. His day starts at five o'clock in the morning. He gets up, has a shower, and then he gets dressed. After breakfast, at about six o'clock, he catches the bus to work. He arrives at the aquarium at half past six and feeds the dolphins. After that, they practise for the show until lunch-time. Bob has a break for lunch from half past twelve till half past one, then the show starts. At five o'clock in the afternoon, he feeds the dolphins again and then he goes home. In the evening, Bob usually watches TV. He doesn't go out very often during the week because he goes to bed early.

And what does Bob do in his free time? He loves going for long walks in the countryside with his dog, Jack. Bob also likes swimming at the pool, but he never swims in the sea because he's afraid of sharks!

"I feel very satisfied with my life at the moment," says Bob. "I've got a great job and I enjoy my free time. Who could ask for more?"

Colman Coneely, a 70-year-old islander, says, "When I was young, few tourists could reach Inishmore. There wasn't an airport or any ferry boats in those days. We have also got electricity and running water. Inishmore is very busy now. There are guest houses, restaurants and lots of souvenir shops."

Coneely looks across the green fields in front of his house and smiles. "Yes, Inishmore is beautiful and we're working hard to keep it just like this."

One gorgeous, sunny day last summer, Claire and her friend Greg went to Longleat Safari Park.

When they drove into the park, they closed the car windows tightly. "We don't want to be a lion's lunch," Claire laughed. Soon, they saw some lions. Greg stopped the car very close to the lions and started taking pictures of them. The lions roared loudly. "They're beautiful, but very scary animals," Claire said. "You're right, Claire. Let's go and see the gorillas, now," Greg said. He tried to start the car several times, but nothing happened. Suddenly, smoke began to come out of the engine.

A few minutes later, the front of the car was on fire. They wanted to jump out of the car, but they couldn't because the lions were around it. They were both really scared. "We'll burn alive!" Claire screamed desperately. She beeped the horn and shouted for help. Just then, a park ranger came along the road in his jeep. "Hold on, we'll get you out!" he shouted. Almost immediately, another jeep arrived and chased away the lions. Claire and Greg jumped out of the car quickly and ran towards the jeep.

When they were safe inside the jeep, they thanked the park ranger for his help. They were still shocked, but happy. They knew they were very lucky to be alive.

The Expedition

David, over here!

Sandra, help! An alligator is after me! My camera!

SNAP

Forget your camera. Here, hold on to this.

ON THE RIVER BANK ...

Phew! That was scary, but we're safe now.

I'm not so sure, David. The Indians are here.

Don't be afraid. There is no need to panic.

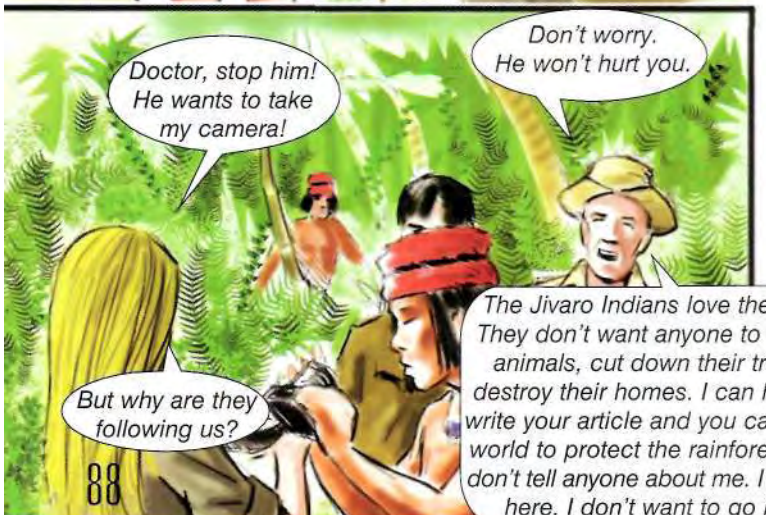

Who are you?

Hey! I know you! You are the famous Doctor Hamperdin. Everybody thinks that you're dead.

Well, as you can see, I'm not! I nearly died, but these people found me and saved me. Now I live here with them. I'm their doctor. I'm learning about the plants of the rainforest. It is very interesting. The Jivaro Indians use some of the plants as medicine. But who are you? What are you doing here?

We're reporters. We came here to write an article about the destruction of the rainforest.

Doctor, stop him! He wants to take my camera!

Don't worry. He won't hurt you.

But why are they following us?

The Jivaro Indians love their land. They don't want anyone to kill their animals, cut down their trees or destroy their homes. I can help you write your article and you can tell the world to protect the rainforest. But - don't tell anyone about me. I'm happy here. I don't want to go back.

BACK IN LONDON ...

Good work, you two. This is a great story and the pictures are fantastic.

Well, it wasn't very difficult. What do you think, Sandra?

Oh no, it wasn't. David needs a new camera, though. An alligator ate his old one!

Yeah! It wanted to take some "snap" shots of the jungle.

6 May,

Dear Sarah,

I've got some great news. Richard and I are going on holiday for a whole month. Guess where — Hawaii!

We're leaving on 1st June. We both love swimming, so we're going to stay at a fabulous hotel right next to the beach. I'm going to relax as much as possible because I'm quite tired after working hard all this year.

We're coming back from our holidays on 30th June, and I've got lots of plans for the rest of the summer. First, I'm going to work at a café because I want to earn some extra money and buy a new car. I'm also going to join a gym to lose some weight. Finally, I want to find a better job in autumn, so I'm going to start a computer course.

Oh, I nearly forgot! On 16th August we're having a garden party to celebrate Richard's birthday. Please try to come. You're welcome to spend the night here. Well, that's all for now. Hope to see you soon.

Love,
Jenny

Dear Terry,

Greetings from Cairo! The weather is very hot here and I'm having a wonderful time. I'm staying with my friend, Abdullah. He lives in the centre of Cairo.

I've been here since Monday and I've already done lots of things! I've already visited the Khan al-Khalili bazaar. We visited it on Tuesday. You can't imagine how noisy and crowded it was! I bought some lovely handmade souvenirs there. I have also seen the Pyramids and the Sphinx at Giza. I saw them yesterday. They were amazing. I even rode a camel. It was fun! I've been to a traditional restaurant. Abdullah took me there last night. I tried couscous and falafel. The place was fantastic and the food was just delicious.

There are a lot of things I haven't done yet. I haven't been on a boat trip down the River Nile yet, and I haven't visited the Egyptian Museum. We are going on a boat trip tomorrow and we are going to visit the museum one of these days to see the exhibits. We are also going to visit Luxor. The place is famous for its huge temples and statues.

Cairo is a fascinating city — you must visit it one day! Anyway, I'm returning to England on Sunday next week, so I'll call you then.

Best wishes,

Americans take tipping more seriously than any other nationality, and of all Americans, no one takes tipping as seriously as hotel bellboys do.

Tip your bellboy generously, and you'll have the perfect holiday. Don't tip him, and you'll have the worst holiday of your life!

Guests who don't tip well at hotels often find that the heating in their room 'accidentally' stops working in the middle of winter, or that they receive strange phone calls in the middle of the night.

Sometimes the keys for their room 'disappear' and it seems that no one can find the spare keys.

It's a good idea to tip a bellboy at least $5 and, for tips of $20 or more, your bellboy will be your friend forever. So, anyone who is planning to stay in an American hotel should remember — bellboys can make sure you have the holiday of your dreams ... or they can make your visit a nightmare!

Writing (a friendly letter from a holiday destination reporting your experiences)

When we are on holiday and we want to write to a friend to report our experiences, we start by saying where we are, when we arrived there, what the weather is like, and where we are staying.

Then, we talk about the things we have or haven't done (present perfect), when we did them and what each was like (past simple). We also say what we are going to do.

We end the letter by saying what we think of the place and when we are leaving.

Imagine you are on holiday. Use the plan below to write a letter to a friend telling him/her about your holiday (80 - 120 words). Use the letter in Ex. 4 as a model.

Episode 1

The Sighting

Strange Visitors

It's 9 pm on a January evening. The night is warm and dry. Sandra and David are in a jeep. They are driving through the fields near Myrreee in Australia. They are doing some research to write a story about UFOs.

David, do you believe in UFOs?

Not really, I'm afraid we're wasting our time.

But some people say they have seen UFOs. They say UFOs land here in Myrreee every year, during the first week of January.

Well, I'm sure there's a logical explanation.

What's the matter, David? Why are you slowing down?

I'm not. I think that there is something wrong with the car. It's no use, I can't start it. What on earth is going on? This is a new car!

David, where's that noise coming from?

Sandra, look! Up there, in the sky!

What is that bright light?

It looks like a UFO. Quick! Take some pictures!

Look at it! It's huge!

What are those flashing lights?

I can't see anything. These lights are too bright.

They are taking us into the spaceship. Oh, I can't stand that noise. My ears ...

Strange Visitors

INSIDE THE SPACESHIP ...

It is a female human.

What is it?

And this here is a male human.

And what was that metal box they were in?

They call it a car. Very primitive means of transport.

We have studied similar humans before. They are still very primitive. They will not be able to understand our technology.

They are not ready to join us. Erase their memories and send them back.

SOME HOURS LATER IN THE JEEP...

What's wrong with this car, David?

I don't know. ... Ah! It's okay. It's started now!

That's strange. The film is full of pictures. Did we take any? I don't remember. Do you?

No, I don't, but I can see the camera is on automatic. Let's develop the film and see what's in it.

IN THE HOTEL ...

Sandra, you won't believe this.

What? A spaceship? Aliens? But how? When? What happened?

My dear Sandra, I can't answer these questions, but there is one thing I'm sure about. This is going to be our best story.

1 a) Look at the pictures on p. 112, then read the statements and mark them as T (true) or F (false).

- 1 There are three aliens inside the spaceship.
- 2 The aliens have got long curly hair.
- 3 The aliens are wearing long robes.
- 4 David and Sandra are in the spaceship in the last picture.

b) Look at the last picture on p. 112. Why are David and Sandra surprised?

2 ☞ Read the sentences. The words in bold are opposites. Explain them, then listen and underline the correct word.

- 1 And this here is a male human/alien.
- 2 Very modern/primitive means of transport.
- 3 They are not ready to join/leave us.
- 4 Bring back/Erase their memories.
- 5 The film is empty/full of pictures.
- 6 This is going to be our best/worst story.

3 Read the episode and answer the questions.

- 1 What is the "metal box" that the alien mentions?
- 2 Why do the aliens decide to erase David's and Sandra's memories?
- 3 What can't humans understand?
- 4 Why does David want to develop the film?
- 5 What do the pictures show?

4 Match the sentences, then underline the correct linking word.

You don't have to fly to get from Britain to central Europe. Why not cross the English Channel by boat, or go through the Channel Tunnel?

Dover, on the south coast of England, is one of the world's busiest ports. Every day lots of ferries and high-speed catamarans called 'Seacats' arrive and leave. It's a short trip across the English Channel to Calais and Dunkirk in France, or to Ostend and Zeebrugge in Belgium. A traditional ferry takes 90 minutes from Dover to Calais, but a catamaran is much faster and can make the same journey in 35 minutes.

Routes to Central Europe

If you don't like boats, why not go on a journey under the sea? The Channel Tunnel is 50 km long and 40 metres below the seabed. Getting from the port at Folkestone across to Coquelles near Calais is only a 35-minute train journey through the tunnel. It's more expensive than a ferry, but quicker and much more exciting. Thanks to the Channel Tunnel, it is now possible to spend the day in Paris shopping and sightseeing, and be back in London in time for dinner in the evening!

Since it opened in 1994, 57 million people and 12,000 cats and dogs have travelled through the Channel Tunnel.

Speaking

- What type of transport do you prefer and why?
- Do you have any ports or long tunnels in your country? Talk about them.

Vancouver

Vancouver is one of the most beautiful places in Canada. It has clean streets and green parks and great views of the Pacific Ocean, to the west and huge mountains to the east. Vancouver is an ideal city. One of its main attractions is Stanley Park, where there are sandy beaches, lakes, and even Indian totem poles. You must also visit Canada Place. It has a conference centre a luxury hotel, a huge cinema and there are special events held there all year round.

Ottawa

Ottawa, the capital city of Canada, is a wonderful mixture of old and new buildings. This green city is a cultural and historical centre for Canada. The people are friendly and speak both French and English. Parliament Hill is a popular tourist spot where visitors can watch military parades. Ottawa is also the home of Canada's National Gallery. It is surrounded by beautiful gardens. Inside, visitors can see over 25,000 of the world's most treasured works of art. With more than twenty-five other museums, sixty annual festivals and a wildlife park, Ottawa is a great city to visit.

Montreal

The city of Montreal is sometimes called the Paris of North America. Two thirds of the people speak French. The area of Old Montreal is very popular with tourists because of its narrow streets, old buildings and European-style cafés and restaurants. In the Botanical Gardens there are over 22,000 types of plants and flowers from all over the world. The Chinese Garden is beautiful and it has a huge colourful pagoda.

b) Read the texts again and find words which are similar in your mother tongue.

c) Can you put the steps in the correct order?

How to make a good cup of tea:

- A let it brew for about 5 minutes
- B warm the teapot (using hot water)

- 2 What do people have for high tea?
- 3 What time is 'elevenses'?
- 4 Where is Earl Grey tea from?
- 5 When do people drink fruit tea?

Everybody knows that the British drink tea, but did you know that they drink around 165 million cups every day? Tea is not just a drink, it is a tradition, and is part of the history and culture of the UK.

Afternoon tea is a popular tradition that started in the early 1800s when people had tea parties in their homes or went out to tea shops or tea rooms at around 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Today, people continue this tradition and tea is served with a light meal of sandwiches, biscuits, cream cakes or fruit cake. In some parts of Britain, afternoon tea is called high tea and usually includes a hot dish. It is similar to a cooked breakfast, and foods such as kippers or eggs with toast as well as cold meats are served. Tea breaks are another tradition that have become a part of daily life. In the past, when workers began their day at about 6am, they took a break in the morning at around 11am to drink tea and have a light snack. Today many people call this 'elevenses' and have a cup of tea and a biscuit.

Nowadays, a wide variety of different teas are available and different blends are drunk at different times.

English breakfast tea is taken in the morning because it has a strong flavour and it wakes you up ready for the day. Darjeeling from India and Earl Grey from China are mild and are best drunk with afternoon tea. Herbal and fruit teas are popular and are drunk at any time of the day.

Speaking

- Do people in your country drink tea or coffee? What is your national drink?
- Do you have any unusual meals like high tea?

4 East Meets West

Pre-reading Activity

- 1 a) Which places do you think these articles are about?
- b) Look at the pictures (A-F). Which shows ...

It's a huge area with hundreds of Chinese restaurants where you can try delicious oriental dishes. Visitors enjoy walking along the winding streets full of colourful shops decorated with oriental carvings and images. There are also fruit, vegetable, meat and fish markets, selling everything you need to make your own Chinese meal.

New York City's Chinatown really comes to life during the Chinese New Year celebrations. The streets are crowded with people of all nationalities watching the amazing dragon and lion dances and admiring the incredible costumes. Traditionally, Chinese shopkeepers must pay the lion dancers so that their shop has a good year. The more money they pay, the more luck they will have.

Reading

- 2 a) Read the texts and mark the statements NY (New York) or L (London). Then explain the words in bold.

- 1 Chinatown is on the east side of Manhattan.
- 2 Shopkeepers give the lion dancers money.
- 3 No cars are allowed.

- 5 It has the largest Chinese community outside of Asia.

- b) Read the texts again and underline the sentences/phrases which best match each picture.

- c) Use your dictionary to explain the words in bold.

- d) Suggest synonyms for the highlighted words.

Speaking

- What are the main nationalities of the people living in your country?
- What other nationalities live in your country? How do they live?
- How do you celebrate New Year?

London's Chinatown is in the Gerrard Street area in the city centre. The Chinese Gate, which is a beautiful oriental entrance to Chinatown, is green and red and people see it as a symbol of the success of the area. There is also a pavilion and no cars are allowed in the area. The streets are full of Chinese restaurants, food stores and specialist shops. Although it is called Chinatown, these businesses are from all over the Far East, including Thailand, Indonesia, Japan and Hong Kong. The area has become a major tourist attraction and part of London's culture.

Britain's Chinese community celebrate Chinese New Year in style. London's Chinatown is decorated with lanterns and flags and the sound of noisy firecrackers fills the air. The whole area becomes a huge market with stalls selling everything from cheap souvenirs to antique Chinese vases. As in New York and all over the world, the lion dance is the main feature of the celebration. However, there are many other special Chinese traditions. The Lord Mayor's Show

The Lord Mayor's Show is a colourful London tradition which started in 1215 and takes place every November.

The Lord Mayor is the person who makes important decisions about the city.

During the show he travels through central London in a gold coach at the front of a large parade. There are soldiers, marching bands, horses and brightly-coloured floats in the parade. People wear beautiful costumes and follow the coach as they listen to the bands playing.

The whole procession is nearly four kilometres long. It is the largest parade of its kind in the world. The streets are full of people who come to watch and cheer just as they did when the famous Dick Whittington was Lord Mayor in 1397. Nowadays, the crowds blow whistles and wave Union Jack flags. At the end of the parade there is a spectacular firework display.

Cowes Week

May Festivals

1st May is called May Day in Britain and there are lots of different traditions and festivals to celebrate the first day of spring.

In many English towns and villages the local people dance around a maypole which is decorated with flowers and ribbons. They also choose a pretty young girl to be the May Queen. She then leads a parade around the streets and Morris Dancers wear flowers and bells and perform a special dance.

In Padstow in Cornwall, the May Day celebrations include the Hobby Horse Festival. Two men wear costumes and masks and go around the town followed by dancers and musicians.

Well dressing is another May Day tradition. Villagers decorate the drinking wells with pictures made from clay and flowers and people come from far away to admire them.

The Isle of Wight is a small island on the south coast of England. The sea around the island is perfect for sailing. Perhaps that's why the small port of Cowes has become one of the most important centres for yachting in the world.

The highlight of the year is Cowes Week, which takes place in early August and dates back to 1826. More than 1,000 boats come to Cowes for the many different aces. Thousands of people watch from the port or from one of the hundreds of spectator boats. After each day's sailing, there are lots of yacht club parties, balls and public events. On the last day there is a huge firework display. Members of the royal family come to visit and everybody has a great time on this friendly and beautiful island.
